

17th Annual Summer Public Health Research Videoconference on Minority Health

Jeffrey A. Henderson, MD, MPH

President and CEO, Black Hills Center for American Indian Health
Assistant Professor, University of Colorado Denver Health Sciences Center

Tues, June 7, 2011 1:30-4:00

Tate-Turner-Kuralt Auditorium

UNC School of Social Work

Jeffrey Henderson, MD, MPH, is a Lakota and enrolled member of the Cheyenne River Sioux Tribe of north-central South Dakota. In 2009, Dr. Henderson finished a 3-year term serving as Chair-designee on the Secretary's National Advisory Council for Minority Health and Health Disparities. He currently serves on the National Advisory Council for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's Breast and Cervical Cancer Early Detection Program. Dr. Henderson has also served as a reviewer for many different NIH and Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality funding initiatives.

Visit www.minority.unc.edu for more information