FOR SOME REASON I'M HAVING PROBLEMS SENDING TO THE @MINCONF DISTRIBUTION LIST. DO YOU HAVE ANY SUGGESTIONS AS TO WHAT I SHOULD DO.,

MAYBE YOU COULD FORWARD THIS UPDATE:

1. I HAD A MEETING WITH ANDREA MANSON WHO GAVE ME THE NAMES OF SEVERAL POTENTIAL SPEAKERS FOR THE BREAKOUT SESSIONS, INCLUDING THE MIGRANT HEALTH AND THE CAPACITY BUILDING SESSION. I WILL GIVE YOU UPDATES WHEN I FOLLOW UP ON THOSE PEOPLE TO SEE THEIR AVAILABILITY FOR THE DATES OF THE CONFERENCE.

2. I CALLED MARIAN WRIGHT EDELMAN'S OFFICE AND THEY REQUESTED THAT THE DEAN SEND A LETTER OF INVITATION TO FORMALIZE MATTERS. DEAN SMALL HAS COME UP WITH SEVERAL DRAFTS OF PAST LETTERS THAT HE WILL PUT TOGETHER FOR ME BY MONDAY. WE ARE GOING TO FAX A LETTER TO HER WITH THE DEAN OF THE SCHOOL'S SIGNATURE ON IT. IT SHOULD GO OUT BY MONDAY AT THE EARLIEST AND TUESDAY BY THE LATEST.

3. I TOLD ANDREA THAT I WOULD BE SURE TO INCLUDE HER ON THE CONFERENCE DISTRIBUTION LIST. HER ADDRESS IS 45AMANSON. I'M NOT SURE WHO I SHOULD GIVE THAT NAME TO TO HAVE ADDED ONTO THE LIST. HOWARD DO YOU?

THAT'S ALL FOLKS...

are Marian Wright Edelman and Billye Avery. Which is chosen depends on their schedules. The committee is also working very hard on trying to get various speakers for the break-out sessions who are members of "minority" groups other than African-American. The topic areas, include, but are not exclusive to, migrant health, violence prevention, environmental justice (hog farming problems), and substance abuse. If you have suggestions of speakers in these particular areas or others, please contact Howard Straker (40HSTRAKER). Also, the committee will be asking for student participants in the poster sessions and to present some of their work at the conference. Also contact Howard if you are interested.

*SUB/Caucus Holiday Party and Food Drive--We will co-sponsor (in name and in presence) a holiday party with SUB on November 30 at 5 pm. There will be food, drinks, and lots of fun. So come out and relax for a little while. We will also co-sponsor a food drive to give to the Interfaith Council for the holidays. Boxes and posters will be put up all over the School. Also, if you bring a non-perishable food item to the holiday party, you will be entered into a drawing, where you could win a very valuable and much needed prize.

*Also, we are working on the "Great Turkey Giveaway" once again this year. We will be soliciting turkeys, hams, and money from different student organizations to give to families for Thanksgiving. If you have contact names of people in different organizations on campus, please e-mail me ASAP (102LSLOAN).

*Announcements--We discussed the time and date for the "name change" discussion (which by the way, will not change, but we will become more dedicated to our focus). The turn out was fabulous, the discussion was productive, and the food was wonderful. Thank you Stephanie and Nicole! The third annual "A Taste of Africa" event will occur Saturday, November 18 (not sure of time). There will be food, music, dinner, a fashion show, singers, and lots of fun!

That's all for now.

1. Reminder of meeting tomorrow

Tuesday the 21st at 5:00 Pm. Rosenau 304. Very Important.

2. WE have availabilty confirmation for Helen Rodriquez-Trias, Byllie Avery, and tentatively Marian Wright Edelman.

3. I don't think we can afford all three in terms of money or time during the cnference. I believe we should have one African American and one Latino or Native American. I think since Helen Rodriquez-Trias is available we should move with her.

The Dean (Ibrahim) sent out what looks to me like a formal invite to Marian Wright Edelman. I think we have to wait on her response till we can move on the African American speaker. This is part of what we must discuss on Tuesday.

See you all soon. Keep up the good work.

Hey Howard I could not get the @minconf to work so I am sending this to you and I hope you will forward it. It looks like Bylle Avery is available either Thursday or Friday. However, her honorarium (spelling?) is $2,500 plus room and board. She prefers not to stay overnight and since she would be speaking early in the day I assume that this would be possible. You know I meant to type travel and lodging not room and board. Anyway she said we could let her know early next week.

I ouldn't get minconf to work so I think you need to explain it to me! Anyways, I talked to Helen Rodriguez-Trias husband who stated that she is available Feb 15-16 but unless I talk to her soon, she may become booked. Apparantly she is on the President's task force on teenage pregnancy so she is invited to speak at a lot of places! I will call her tonight to ask her to 'set aside' those dates until we can send her a formal invitation. So it looks good!

I also spoke to a MSW in So Carolina who is one of the few spanish speaking and latina professionals dealing w/ the hispanic and African-American community. She can talk about culturally sensitive counseiling, or her experiecne of counselling latino and African american children adn dolescent w/ special health needs (medical such as diabetes, etc.) Buffa will be giving me some other leads for mental health speakeers so I was thinking perhaps 2 speakers would provide a broader perspective and various issues. I am still trying to contact those original people but w/ little luyck.

Have a good weekend!

Dear Mary:

This letter is to formally invite you to be a panelist for the 16th Annual Minority Health Conference; Youth and Families of Color: What's Going On? This conference is sponsored by the Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center, Minority Cancer Control Research Program; the Minority Student Caucus, and the Minority Health Research and Education Center Committee, School of Public Health, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The Conference is scheduled for Thursday and Friday, February 17-18, 1993 at the UNC School of Public Health (Rosenau Hall).

The Conference focuses on the health concerns of minorities in North Carolina and the southeast region. This year we will emphasize practical solutions to minority health problems that would assist professionals who work with high risk populations; provide state policy makers with more culturally sensitive information; and give students and faculty an opportunity to interact with people working in various fields of public health. It is our intention to make this a working conference in which people on various levels can interact, share ideas, and develop realistic solutions to the multifaceted challenges facing minority populations. We anticipate an audience of 300 participants from diverse settings.

We would like for you to present in the breakout session on Minority Youth and Sexuality on Thursday, February 17 at 4:00 p.m. in Room 2301 McGavran-Greenberg Hall. We are willing to provide your airfare, lodging and meal costs during this trip. In addition, we will provide an honorarium of $200 as a small token of our appreciation for your services. We request that you keep a record of your expenses and submit them (along with the original hotel receipts and airlines tickets) for reimbursement after the conference.

Overnight accommodations can be made by calling the Carolina Inn (919-933-2001). We will be happy to arrange for someone meet you at the airport.

Mary E. Vernon

Gosh Howard, what a coincidence. My husband, Eduardo Duran,(a Native american psychologist-Tewa and Apache), just published a book on this topic "Native American Post Colonial Psychology". Maybe he would go over there. Do you have money to pay his travel or a speaker fee? He heads a commnity based mental health services program (all Native staff) at the First Nations clinic here in Albuquerque and he regularly integrates Native medicine people and spiritual leaders into seeing clients. His number is (505) 262-2481.

Good Luck.

Subject: MINCONF - Michael or Carmen Hooker?
Date: 12/8/95 Time: 5:23PM

To: WTSMALL.SPH@MHS.UNC.EDU
From: "VICTOR J. SCHOENBACH, DEPT OF EPIDEMIOLOGY"
<SCHOENBACH@SOPHIA.SPH.UNC.EDU>

Hi, Bill. I attended the MINCONF meeting last Tuesday - my first in some time. The program is looking very impressive. As I thought about the program, it occurred to me that perhaps it would be a mistake to ask the Chancellor to give one of the perfunctory welcomes at 9:00am or earlier in the morning. As you know, the attendance at that hour is usually low, and this will be the Chancellor's first exposure to the conference. In fact, the hour seemed even earlier than I remembered from past programs.

Based on my impression of Michael Hooker, I wonder if we should try to involve him in a more substantial way and at a time that he can experience the conference at its fullest. I raised this with the planning committee and we wondered how that might be done (naturally, we all figured we needed to ask you). Someone (Buffa?) raised the idea of inviting Carment Hooker, since she is involved in the public health arena (on the Health Commission?) and has been a legislator. That seemed an intriguing idea.

I'm not sure what exactly to try to do, but I figured if we could bring the Chancellor (or perhaps his wife) to the Conference at a point where it would make the best impression, that could be very helpful for future minority health activities (e.g., MHREC).

Any thoughts?

Best,
Vic

Here is the promised update on our last meetings.

*Social Committee--is working on some activities for us to participate. There was discussion of going bowling, roller skating, or to Charlie Goodnights. Hopefully we could do one of these activities before finals. The activity and a date will be given at a later time.

*Fundraising Committee--is working on a plan to sell business cards. At the moment, they are determining costs and feasibility of the project. Also, the committee is organizing a bake sale scheduled for Tuesday, November 28 from 9am-1pm outside of the student lounge. Please prepare a baked good for the event and bring it the morning of November 28. Also consider the price of your baked good. We need volunteers to sit at the table. Whatever time you can spare will be greatly appreciated. Contact Nicole Bivins (102NBIVINS) or Rachel Goldsmith (102RGOLDSMI). We are raising money to sponsor our holiday giving activities.

*Mentoring Committee--passed around a draft of the letter for review. Revisions will be made and the letter will go out before the end of the semester.

*Notes/Test File--is now soliciting your notes and old tests. Please drop this information in the box of La Shae Sloan (in HPAA). We will make copies and get the information back to you. Please respond by December 8.

*Community Service--discussed their trip to Tillery. The participants said they had a very enjoyable time. They are not working on plans to sponsor a weekend at UNC for the Nubian Youth. We will try to bring them up in early January. Possible activities for them to participate were discussed. If you have any ideas or would like to participate in the planning and/or the event, contact Al Peters (30APETERS). Your help is greatly needed.

*Minority Health Conference--At the moment, the two possible keynote speakers

Dear Bill:

Enclosed are two copies of a grant for $500 in support of the Minority Health Conference. We are pleased to be able to participate in this important conference again this year. Please sign both copies and return them both to me. I will forward a fully-executed copy for your records once Mr. Bernstein has signed them.

As a final closeout for last year's conference, it would be helpful to have an expenditure report for our files. Your assistance with this will be most appreciated.

If you should have any questions, please feel free to give me a call.

James G. Jones, M.D., executive director of the N.C. Health Care Reform Commission, is a national leader in the fields of family medicine and rural health care. He is board certified in family medicine and was in private practice for 13 years before joining the East Carolina University School of Medicine and becoming founding chairman of the Department of Family Medicine. He served as chairman of the Department from 1977 to 1994. He is professor of Family Medicine at East Carolina University School of Medicine at the University of North Carolina School of Medicine.

He has served as chairman of the Board of Directors of the American Academy of Family Physicians and president of both the North Carolina Academy of Family Physicians and the American Academy of Family Physicians and is currently president of the American Academy of Family Physicians Foundation. The National Academy recently awarded him with the Thomas W. Johnson award for outstanding contributions to family practice in undergraduate, graduate and continuing education. He has also served as a member of the Board of Directors and vice-president of the American Board of Family Practice, and has been a member of the Residency Review Committee for Family Practice. He chaired the Primary Care Manpower Task Force of the North Carolina Medical Society. He is past vice president of the N.C. Medical Society.

He has published articles in such national medical journals as the American Family Physician, The Journal of Family Practice, Academic Medicine, Annals of Emergency Medicine, and The Female Patient. Dr. Jones has been featured in the national media, including interviews on "Good Morning America," CNN, C-Span, and on National Public Radio.

Dr. Jones is a member of the Lumbee Indian tribe and grew up in Pembroke, North Carolina. In 1988, Dr. Jones was named the country's Indian Physician of the Year. He attended Mars Hill College and graduated from Wake Forest College. He is a graduate of the Bowman Gray School of Medicine and did graduate training in general practice at Grady Hospital in Atlanta. He served as a medical officer with the U.S. Navy from 1960 to 1962.

In 1992, Dr. Jones was selected by East Carolina University to hold the recently endowed Berbecker Distinguished Professorship in Rural Medicine in honor of his national leadership and contributions in that field. This was the first endowed chair in the School of Medicine and the first in a Department of Family medicine in any of the North Carolina medical schools.

In recognition of his work in rural health in North Carolina, he was appointed Associated Dean for Rural Practice at East Carolina University School of Medicine in 1993.

Dr. Jones was appointed Executive Director of the North Carolina Health Planning Commission, now the N.C. Health Care Reform Commission, in 1993. He is a member of the North Carolina Health Policy Information Council and on the board of the NCHICA. He is co-chairman of the North Carolina Long Term Care Roundtable.

Dear Ann:

Many thanks to you and the Division of Maternal and Child Health for agreeing to commit funding in support of Dr. Helen Rodriguez-Trias' participation in the February 15-16, 1996 School of Public Health Minority Health Conference. As you are aware, in confirming Dr. Rodriguez-Trias' visit to Chapel Hill, we agreed to provide her an honorarium of $1000 plus travel and hotel expenses for a total commitment of $1620. The purpose of Dr. Rodriguez-Trias' visit is to deliver the Conference Keynote Address on Thursday, February 15. Following her address, she will be available for the remainder of the day to meet with individuals and groups to discuss various health issues of national concern. It is indeed an honor having an outstanding health professional such as Dr. Rodriguez-Trias participate in our Conference. We truly look forward to having her with us.

As promised, I am enclosing a copy of Dr. Rodriguez-Trias' biographical information for your review. Please let me know if this information is sufficient for your purpose.

Again, I thank you and Division of Maternal and Child Health for the enormous contribution that you are rendering in behalf of our Conference. We are indeed grateful for your kindness.

Biographical Information

Dr. Helen Rodriguez-Trias grew up in Puerto Rico and New York City where she attended public schools through High School. After marriage and the births of three children, she continued higher studies at the University of Puerto Rico and its Medical School, graduating with the highest honors in 1960. Following attainment of the MD and the birth of a fourth child, she went on to Internship and Pediatric Residency.

Dr. Rodriguez-Trias remained on the Medical School faculty in Puerto Rico and at the University Hospital, developing the first center for care of newborn babies on the island. Under her leadership, and with the collaboration of the Maternal Infant Care Regional Program staff, the Hospital's rate for deaths of newborn babies decreased by half within three years.

A growing interest in the social and economic circumstances affecting children's health led her away from sophisticated neonatal clinical research to ambulatory care and advocacy for women's and children's rights. Soon after her arrival in New York City in 1970, she joined a large group of advocates for women's reproductive rights and became a founding member of the Committee to End Sterilization Abuse. The demonstration of the need for appropriate informed consent led the New York City Health and Hospitals Corporation to enact guidelines on sterilization procedures and the New York City Council to pass a law to protect against abuses. She remains a firm advocate for women's rights to choices.

Dr. Rodriguez-Trias has directed Pediatric programs: Lincoln Hospital in the Bronx (Director of the Department of Pediatrics); St.-Luke's-Roosevelt Hospital Center in Manhattan (Director, Division of Primary Care) and at the Newark Beth Israel Medical Center in New Jersey (Director of Pediatric Primary Care Program). It was in Newark in 1985, that the discovery of children with AIDS in the walk-in and primary care clinics convinced her that the prevention and management of HIV infection must be on every health care person's agenda.

During her tenure as Medical Director at the AIDS Institute in New York State in 1988 and 1989, Dr. Rodriguez-Trias participated in developing programs and policies directed at serving the needs of families affected by HIV, particularly those comprised of women and their children. Dr. Rodriguez-Trias incorporates the principles of professional activism into the curriculum for students and residents, teaching on subjects ranging from child abuse to AIDS. She stresses the need to learn cross cultural skills and to respect and celebrate diversity.

Dr. Rodriguez-Trias was an Assistant Professor in Pediatrics at the University of Puerto Rico School of Medicine, and has held the rank of Associate Professor of Pediatrics at: the Albert Einstein College of Medicine; the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University and at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey.

Over the past twenty years she has served as consultant to numerous foundations and government agencies. She publishes and lectures extensively on women's and children's health and health care issues. Dr. Rodriguez-Trias relocated to California in 1989 from where she consults on health programming specially in primary care and on services to prevent and treat HIV infection in women and children.

Among the national organizations on whose Boards she currently sits are the National Women's Health Network, the Reproductive Health Technology Project and the National Center for Children in Poverty.

In 1991, she was honored by the American Public Health Association whose Governing Council elected her President Elect. On November, 1992 she became President of APHA for the one year term that ended on October 28, 1993, and, remained on the Executive Committee and Executive Board as Immediate Past President for an additional year. In 1994 she was named Chair of the American Public Health Association's Standing Committee on Women's Rights.

Dr. Rodriguez-Trias lives with her husband, Edward Gonzalez, Jr., a career consultant and adult educator, in Brookdale, a village near Santa Cruz, California. She has two daughters who live in San Francisco, one son in Puerto Rico and another in Los Angeles. Seven grandchildren bring her great joy, as they do to their parents and to her husband.

December 1, 1995

Helen Rodriguez-Trias, MD,
P. O. Box 418
Brookdale, CA 95007

Dear Mrs. Rodriguez-Trias:

For the past 17 years, the minority students in our School of Public Health have sponsored a minority health conference for the purpose of addressing health issues of concern to minority populations. Previous conferences have featured noted public health professionals and community health leaders. Conference attendees include health professionals and community health leaders. Conference attendees include university students and faculty, local, state and federal government personnel, minority students and faculty from the South and community health workers. The 1996 conference entitled, "Healthy People of Color 2000: Intervention Strategies," is to be held on February 15-16. We would be honored if you would agree to deliver the keynote address on Thursday morning, February 16. We are allowing approximately 45 minutes for your presentation. This will be followed by a discussion session.

Conference attendance has grown steadily over the years. The 1995 event attracted over 300 participants and we expect even greater attendance in 1996. Dr. Satcher, Director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, was the featured speaker in 1995. For your review, I am enclosing a copy of the 1995 conference program listing the titles of previous conferences and keynote speakers.

The 1996 conference will emphasize the following topic areas: migrant health, substance abuse, mental health, community-based programs, institutional capacity-building and environmental racism. The conference organizing committee feels that your on-going dedication to women's reproductive rights and to improving the situation of children, is especially inspiring to our students.

This conference carries with it a modest honorarium in addition to reimbursement for travel, lodging and incidental expenses. Mr. William Small, Associate Dean, will be pleased to work with your office to assist in making arrangements for your visit.

We look forward to hearing from you at your earliest convenience with the hope that you will be able to accept our invitation. Your presentation will make an outstanding contribution to the success of our conference.

Sincerely,

Patricia Alvarez

Two-day conference to target health issues facing minorities and health objectives for the year 2000
By: Pam Duncan

CHAPEL HILL -- The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill will host hundreds of health and human service professionals and students at the 18th Annual Minority Health Conference Feb. 15-16. The conference will review state and national health objectives for the year 2000 and explore strategies to meet these goals for communities of color.

This year's topic, "Healthy People of Color 2000: Intervention Strategies," will focus on major health issues affecting minorities including migrant health, violence, substance abuse, environmental justice, capacity building, mental health and community-based interventions.

The UNC-CH conference will take place at the William and Ida Friday Continuing Education Center from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Feb. 15 and 8:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. on Feb. 16. Graduate students from the UNC-CH School of Public Health and members of the Minority Student Caucus will serve as moderators.

Featured speakers the first day will include Delton Atkinson of the N.C. State Center for Health Statistics; Dr. James Jones of the N.C. Healthcare Reform Commission; Dr. Helen Rodriguez-Trías of the President's Commission on Teen Pregnancy; Carolyn Whithead of the N.C. Office of Rural Research; Dr. Michel Ibrahim and Dr. Carolyn Parks of the UNC-CH School of Public Health; Audrey Burwell of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention; and Susanna Chan of Mental Health and Social Services, Boston, Massachusetts.

Speakers Feb. 16 will include Dr. John Hatch and Dr. Joseph Telfair of the UNC-CH School of Public Health, and ^{MA} Dr. Bylye Avery of the National Black Women's Health Network. In addition, four UNC-CH School of Public Health students will present papers on their health-related research or programs involving the minority community.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Deans, Directors, and Department Chairs
FROM: Paul Hardin Paul Hardin
SUBJECT: EPA Non-Faculty Performance Evaluations

As a consequence of action of the Trustees, a system of annual written performance evaluations for EPA non-faculty employees has been instituted for the University. Each EPA non-faculty employee must receive annually a written performance evaluation, which must be discussed with him or her by the supervisor or chair, which must be placed in the employee's personnel file, and about which the employee can comment in writing if he or she chooses. Anecdotal reports suggest that these evaluations have not consistently conformed to the Trustees' requirements. We have no discretion in this regard. These evaluations must conform to these standards.

At the request of some of you, a form has been developed, a copy of which is attached, for recording these evaluations. However, you may use as an alternative to the form some other written evaluation (for example, a letter) that you develop and that addresses the same factors the form addresses (that is, a general description of the duties of the position and an evaluation of the employee's performance). Whatever form is used, it must be discussed with the employee, placed in the file, and available for comment by the employee.

Evaluating each employee may occur in connection with annual salary review, though you may prefer another time. In any case, you should complete for each permanent full-time EPA non-faculty employee within your administrative jurisdiction a written evaluation no later than July 1, 1995.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. I hope that this system of evaluations is useful to you and to your employees.

Health focusing on special health concerns of minorities in North Carolina and the Southeast.

The conference will review state and national health objectives for the Year 2000, assess the progress being made by communities of color, and offer valuable perspectives on existing strategies to meet these critically important goals. Skill-building workshops, stimulating panel discussions, and extended networking breaks will highlight this annual tradition at the UNC-CH School of Public Health.

The following topic areas will be the primary focus of this year's conference:

Migrant Health—This session will look at various models of strategies being used throughout North Carolina to address the health of migrant workers.

Violence—This session will look at community intervention strategies to reduce or prevent violence. The conference will highlight domestic and adolescent violence programs aimed to reduce and prevent community violence.

Substance Abuse—This session will explore programs which have successfully incorporated ethnic identity and culture as part of their substance abuse intervention strategy.

Environmental Justice—This session will look at environmental injustice issues affecting communities of color in Eastern North Carolina. It will particularly focus on the hog farming industry and efforts within their communities to protect their environment.

Capacity Building—This session will provide tips for approaching funding sources for intervention projects.

Mental Health—This session will look at efforts to supply culturally appropriate and sensitive mental health interventions for and within communities of color. It will include a focus on immigrant and refugee communities.

Community-Based Interventions—This session will explore issues surrounding community public health interventions. Two models will be used:

- a collaboration effort of community, university, and health departments, and
- a grassroots community organized program.

Buffa has been receiving abstracts via email. We need to choose 4 by next Tuesday. I have asked her to forward them to us (the students) so we can quickly make a decision at Tuesday's 1:00 meeting. In addition, I have an abstract for Carmen Samuel-Hodges. She submitted for a poster but I convinced her to convert it to presentation. Dean Small said the Dentist who submitted the poster abstract is waiting to be contacted to convert it into a presentation. I will place them (the abstracts) in Philip's box on Friday.

Gary Grant confirmed officially today. The rest of the environmental justice panel is to be confirmed.

Dear Professor Zapata:

The 18th Annual Minority Health Conference Committee would like to extend to you our thoughts on the misunderstanding that arose around some of the accommodation plans of the Keynote Speaker, Dr. Helen Rodriguez-Trias. Traditionally, keynote speakers invited to the conference have an opportunity to spend some time with the Planning Committee and other students at the School of Public Health. Due to the fact that Dr. Rodriguez-Trias was traveling and we were unable to contact her directly, a misunderstanding arose concerning this tradition. The Thursday, February 15 dinner with Dr. Rodriguez-Trias was an attempt to have an all-inclusive event at which both faculty and students could participate. In no way did we intend to offend or exclude you at this event or through the planning process.

It is very unfortunate that this problem arose and we hope to have more open communication with you when planning a future event. The Committee is grateful for your assistance in helping us recruit Dr. Rodriguez-Trias for this event. Her presence was inspirational and vital to the success of the conference.

If you would like to discuss this matter further, we are available for further comment or questions.

Sincerely,

Howard Straker

Dear Mr. Straker:

Thank you for your letter regarding the misunderstanding that occurred during Dr. Rodriguez-Trias' participation in the successful 18th Annual Minority Health Conference. The main problem was due to miscommunication between members of the organizing committee and me. Although, I consulted with you and communicated with Dean Small about evening plans with Dr. Rodriguez-Trias, I was not aware of the needs of the Planning Committee. Misunderstandings are part of human interaction and can be a great opportunity for learning and growth. I look back at the situation in this light.

As far as I am concerned, this matter is closed. It is time to move on. I do thank you for your respect and consideration regarding my intentions as Helen's host.

Sincerely,

Dear Ann:

Many thanks to you and the Division of Maternal and Child Health for agreeing to commit funding in support of Dr. Helen Rodriquez-Trias' participation in the February 15-16, 1996 School of Public Health Minority Health Conference. As you are aware, in confirming Dr. Rodriquez-Trias' visit to Chapel Hill, we agreed to provide her an honorarium of $1000 plus travel and hotel expenses for a total commitment of $1620. The purpose of Dr. Rodriquez-Trias' visit is to deliver the Conference Keynote Address on Thursday, February 15. Following her address, she will be available for the remainder of the day to meet with individuals and groups to discuss various health issues of national concern. It is indeed an honor having an outstanding health professional such as Dr. Rodriquez-Trias participate in our Conference. We truly look forward to having her with us.

As promised, I am enclosing a copy of Dr. Rodriquez-Trias' biographical information for your review. Please let me know if this information is sufficient for your purpose.

Again, I thank you and Division of Maternal and Child Health for the enormous contribution that you are rendering in behalf of our Conference. We are indeed grateful for your kindness.

Sincerely,

Healthy People of Color 2000 Evaluation Comments

General Comments:

Very good

Good Conference! Keep it up - I can't wait for next year

Very good conference, excellent topics and good relevant discussions

A very interesting two days

Congratulations, an excellent conference!

The staff and moderator were friendly and helpful. I would recommend this and other conferences put on by you to others. It was professional from start to end!! All your students sounded and looked professional. This building was set for learning and comfort. Your Friday Center offers space and conv to all individuals attending your conference.

Great facility for a conference; climate, seating excellent. Foods during break were okay; please consider caffeine-free diet beverages for future conferences to add variety for individuals. The concurrent sessions were very good. Continue to get minority leaders as keynote speakers. Thank you for a great conference!

Extremely productive, essential, and informative conference. Speakers were outstanding, participative public health people of color. Keep the fires burning!

An excellent program. More time for questions should be allocated for future conf. more time for Dr. Hart-Brothers and Dr. Satcher

I thought all the moderators did a good job and were helpful in directing us and making us feel comfortable, particularly Kara Morgan, Dionne Price, and Scottie Davis

The moderators were very helpful, articulate, and informative. As graduate students coming from USC, Columbia SC, I was made to feel comfortable by UNC Students like Kara Morgan, Dionne Price and Scottie Davis

Dr. Satcher was an excellent choice for a keynote speaker. I would like to commend Bill Small and his co-chairs Scottie Davis and Kara Morgan for a job well done. Great planning

The facility was great (esp./ parking); was impressed how other groups were included in information given, Hispanics, Native Americans. Good mix of professionals and students.

Thank you for including Native Americans in the presentations. This conference has given us a lot of information to digest. It has challenged us.

A very fine conference. Dynamite speakers, I didn't feel that there was enough time to converse with fellow professionals. On the other hand, there was absolutely no time for boredom.

Thanks to the SPH for sponsoring and congratulations to everyone involved in the planning and coordinating of this excellent event - Keep up the good work!

Important tradition -- keep it going. Don't forget needs of students at SHP to participate as much as possible. TV good, transport?

Networking opportunities were excellent. involvement of the students was exceptional. I am impressed, excited and encouraged. At the same time, I am enraged that so little has been done to decrease disparities. So , I'm feeling more empowered. James Carter's speech was depressing.

I am not sure what the topic of Bill Jenkins' speech was supposed to be. Need to do a better job of publicizing the conference. This is the first year I received information about it. Better accommodations for out-of-state attendees. Have the conference at a site that provides lodging or provide shuttle service to local hotels. have more workshops which provide and opportunity for small group interaction. Nice conference facility. Dr. Satcher was outstanding!

James Carter spoke too long. David Satcher great!! Next Surgeon General. Would like more information on the health status of blacks and other people of color. Give us an annual update on what the statistics are among the people of color. Give a sense of what is happening in NC concerning NC health problems.

I felt the conference was very important and informative. I feel that especially due to the number of migrants in NC that possibly one of the breakout sessions could be devoted to Hispanic health. I felt the only low point was the talk by Henry Montes. It was slightly mundane, but overall the conference was very beneficial.

I would have enjoyed more emphasis on black and white communities working together instead of separate groups for health care. As a white, generation X, young person I have thoroughly enjoyed learning about the black culture and customs since living in NC. I hope someday there will be less struggle and resentment between the races. I guess I wish minorities understood that most young whites want to work with them and not against them. My hopes are for a cohesive community in the future. We don't want you to be "like" us, we just want to live in peace.

Ronald Wyatt's speech was excellent; David Satcher was double excellent. Have the "longer" day on the first day of conference (esp. if you have the "meeting" on a Thursday or Friday.) Handouts of highlights of major speakers' presentations. Please work on controlling people entering and exiting sessions. Those doors are very loud.

Henry Montes: good hard questions, eye contact. Ex. speaker tone, volume, etc. Related, clear, well prepared. Need handouts. Balius Walker: The speaker spoke clearly, nice ease in rate and volume. Information was presented in an orderly way. Covered a wide area of information. Need to improve his overhead transp. Very hard to read and see!

Needed handout material on areas of lead toxic, etc. Info on types of cancer by sex and race would have helped on handouts. Alan Hinderliter's voice could put you to sleep. Clear slides of areas that he was covering. It was nice that he brought a sample of a monitor that could be used for 24^o data. Slides were information but could not be read, in the back of the room. Needed handouts. He needed to talk louder; you could not hear him in the back what was said to him by one of the students. Did a closeout review at the end.

Alan Hinderliter's slides were old. I was offended by the term negro. His slides were hard to read. I had different expectations from this session. His data was over 10 years old. Was he informed on what type conference this was ?? His presentation was more on the clinical and medical aspects. He even showed data without providing adequate sources or dates. Someone else should have been selected to do this presentation. David Satcher was great! Good facility. Easy parking. Great choice. I would have liked to see more local health dept displays.

I feel that there should have been more people in the Biomedical Research Careers. There should be more time for one-on-one interaction.

In my opinion, the keynote speaker should have been the last component on the program. The attendance for Public Health Forum was very low.

Alan Hinderliter talked too low - even with microphone. Needed a hand microphone. This was an excellent conference. There should be more. Keep up the good work.

Henry Montes' talk was extremely informative. Responded very appropriately and well to audience questions. James Carter's data was very sobering

I thought "Are we on track" would actually address the question! I have seen stats on goals for 2000 re minority health -- where are we in relation to these? What are our efforts toward them (not in jargon and double-speak please, but in actual programs in place)? Where are we lacking?

Unable to hear speaker well

Suggestions for future programs:

- Minority women's health issues
- State conference on Healthy People 2000
- More question and answer for Dr. Satcher.
- Consider providing a list (with map) of local restaurants. This would be helpful since the conference location is no longer in close proximity to Franklin St.
- I expected more outreach discussion; smaller more intimate discussion groups. Minority outreach strategies, elaborate on building trust
- Time is always a constraint but . . . time for more questions and answers between Bill Jenkins and the audience and between David Satcher and the audience would have been very useful.
- Keep the conference at the Friday Center
- Minority communities helping themselves
- More panel discussions
- More speakers in the field of ENHS
- Teaching sexuality ed to youths
- More publicity at UNC; sessions on reproduction and STDs
- More family issues like last conference; teen pregnancy prevention - HIV, STDs specifically.
- I would like to suggest switching the time of the programs so that Thursday is the long day and Friday is the short day in consideration of those traveling late on a Friday afternoon.
- Violence as a public health problem. Media advocacy and coalition building.
- Healthy People 2000: Closing the Gap
- Should provide a data set (table) which describes the health status of people of color in NC.
- Community outreach
- Preventative health care issues with focus on preventative measures; the role of health education for families/clients; minority issues/survival; resources -- where and how do we find them? The role of mentoring /who should and why
- More attention paid to "minority." There is so lack of meaning for the term "minority." We can empower people by referring to them as "minorities." Minority to me means less than. I am comfortable with "people of color."
- Nutrition; bring some "user -participants" of the programs to share their experiences. Hands-on workshop on 1) grant writing 2) behavior objections 3) educational resources for getting "minorities" that can be purchased
- I come from a medical clinic serving mostly African American poor -- we attempt to offer as comprehensive serves as possible given our financial constraints (as well as our mission). I found nothing helpful here and am truly disappointed. This conference could have been good and this is truly sad.

Having been a professional for > 30 years, I have attended thousands of workshops and this has been the worst. Who was the audience? What were the objectives? The Fri AM session on Mental Health was a put down on Black males, MDs, Cancer support groups. It was a pitiful "pity party"

It would have been helpful to have been given HANDOUTS! from the presenters. Please note Carolyn Mayo did have a very interesting, well-outlined handout; a list of hotels that are lower in price for those of us who must pay out of our pocket. NOTE: I was not pleased about the Breakout Sessions. I came to this conference alone. I was interested in two sessions but had to select one! Really all the breakout Sessions were interesting. Topics of sessions with Walker, Shelby, Bell, and Wyatt were all subjects that relate to my position in Health promotion and Prev. Med. Please NO breakout sessions.

Dear Dean Small:

I am writing to congratulate the conference planning committee for Healthy People of Color 2000 for putting together a strong conference on special health concerns of minorities. This conference grows in stature every year and helps identify trends and issues that warrant attention by policy makers. May I offer two comments for your consideration when planning future conferences?

1. Like most small non-profit agencies, we operate on a tight budget. We were interested in displaying some of our educational materials at the conference but were dissuaded by the fee required. Could the planning committee consider allowing small agencies such as ours an opportunity to participate without a fee?
2. Sexual violence is a preventable injury as well as being criminal activity. The minority community is affected by sexual violence, just as every other community is. Could the planning committee consider addressing this devastating issue in a future conference?

Should you be so inclined, I would be interested in discussing with you of some of the issues our agency has identified in relation to minority communities - everything from staff/volunteer recruitment to the ways communities respond to victims of sexual violence.

Thanks for all the good work of the planning committee. If our agency can be of service in any way, please do not hesitate to call.

Sincerely,

Margaret Henderson

Speaker prescribes actic to boost minority health

By JADA HARRIS ATWATER

The Chapel Hill Herald

CHAPEL HILL — Health-care professionals must also be political activists, participants in a two-day conference were told Thursday at the Friday Center.

Helen Rodriguez-Trias, a health-care consultant, gave the keynote address on the first day of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's 18th annual Minority Health Conference.

Her hourlong talk — "Narrowing the Gap, By Celebrating Our Diversity" — provoked nervous laughter and smatterings of applause as her points hit home for many of the 200 students and professionals in the audience.

Cuts in social programs threaten the health of minorities, who are disproportionately poor, Rodriguez-Trias said.

To fight the problems those cuts will cause, health-care providers have to act now, she said.

"We can't do that by just being better professionals," she said, adding that health-care professionals must become political activists.

They also must shift their emphasis from curing illness to preventing it, something that Rodriguez-Trias, 66, encouraged them to do by taking a holistic approach.

"Public health is not about single people, but about levels of being — families, neighborhoods, where we work and play — that we all participate in," Rodriguez-Trias said.

Knowing how people survive the adversities in their lives helps strengthen the whole community around them, she said.

"We are living in different worlds," Rodriguez-Trias said. "You can't understand what someone [else's] experiences are unless you have lived there.

"We must listen," she added. "We must listen. And we must respond."

Abstract no.1

ABSTRACT

Developing Prevention/Treatment Groups for Children of Addicts and Alcoholics

BY :Denise M. Cooper, B.A., SACII
Robeson County Mental Health Center
Lumberton, N.C.

This workshop is designed to introduce the participant to the concept of developing groups for children/adolescents who come from substance abusing families. This workshop is intended to analyze the perplexities, difficulties, and abuses this population often endures. The dynamics of the incestuous substance abusing family will be discussed and family sculptures will be formed and analyzed by the participants. Didactic material will be presented and participants are encouraged to dialogue with each other and the presenter. It is encouraged that clinical experiences be shared among participants in order to create an atmosphere of networking and cooperative learning.

Additionally, support group facilitation and suggested curriculums will be discussed.

The suggested audience for this workshop is as follows: Mental health clinicians, school counselors and social workers, youth group leaders, and support groups leaders. When participants have completed the workshop they will have a working knowledge of many group techniques to help group members confront difficult issues in a supportive and non-threatening manner.

Abstract No. 2

Prevention/Treatment: Developing Multicultural Adolescent Groups.

By: Denise M. Cooper, SACII

This workshop is designed to introduce the participant to the concept of developing multicultural groups for adolescent substance abusers and other at-risk adolescent populations.

This workshop is intended to analyze the diversity and values of the African-American and Native American cultures. There will be discussion on how cultural differences contribute to addictions. Didactic material will be presented and participants are encouraged to dialogue with each other and the presenter and to share clinical experiences.

Additionally, multicultural curriculums will be introduced and the presenter will discuss how to develop your own Rites of Passage and Mentoring groups for high-risk adolescents. Also, funding sources on a local, state and federal level will be discussed.

William T. Small
Office of the Dean
UNC-CH School of Public Health
Chapel Hill, NC 27599-8165

Dear Dr. Small:

Listed below are names of people from the National Health and Environmental Effects Research Laboratory who would like to attend the Healthy People of Color 2000 conference on February 15-16, 1996.

Yolanda Anderson
Hal Zenick

Thank you for your consideration to waive the registration fee for these participants. My secretary has already called the Office of Continuing Education to register Dr. Anderson and myself.

Sincerely,

Dear LaShae,

How are you? Amy gave me your earlier message, but I still haven't seen you today. I went to lunch with Minnie McNary, and we didn't get back until fairly late. so stop by for a minute or two if you are still here.

I too want to extend my congratulations to members of the Caucus and the conference organizing committee for a job extremely well done! From all the responses I heard, the conference was an incredible success! You all should be proud.

At the end of the conference, several faculty stopped me and suggested that the following ideas be incorporated and/or considered in future conference planning. They admitted that some of these ideas have been implemented in previous years, but they wanted to try them again to encourage greater SPH faculty/student participation. Here they are:

1. Provide a shuttle bus from the campus to the Friday Center to accomodate student participants.
(Presumably, this suggestion encourages the availability of a van/bus other than the available campus transportation possibilities, i.e. Point-to-Point and the University bus system.)
2. Hold the conference in the School of Public Health again. This would ensure that an optimum number of students and faculty could participate in the conference.
3. Plenary sessions to be held in the evenings as a means of broadening participation times.
4. Consider topics which address issues faced by non-minority faculty and students working in/with minority populations.
5. Improve marketing strategies for the conference. What population(s) do you want to attract (be specific)?
As a part of this, solicit greater faculty involvement in promoting and supporting the conference. This might also be done from the level of the Dean's Office on down. There should be few faculty and staff doing anything other than attending the conference during those days. How can the conference gain wider coverage from local media as well?

6. Videotaped sessions in the Mayes conference center and/or the student lounge, so that those who are unable to attend the conference can still benefit from the sessions. (If all sessions cannot be videotaped, then perhaps the keynote addresses can be videotaped.)

7. A summary report of conference events/sessions to include abstracts of papers/research presented, an updated participant list, summaries of session topics and respondents' remarks, general reflections from conference participants gleaned from evaluations.

8. A special marketing effort targeting UNC-CH SPH alumni. How can they become more involved?

9. Mailing list for the conference: How is it compiled? Who is responsible for updating the list? Is it as comprehensive as it needs to be?

Well, that about does it. Again, three conference participants stopped me after the final keynote to reflect on what they thought might improve the conference. They asked me to write these ideas down because they had forgotten to include them in their evaluations. If you would like names of any of the contributors, check with me. I don't remember specifically, but one of the faculty members is now retired but comes to the conference each year.

Hope to talk with you soon!

Just another note of congratulations to all who worked so diligently on the Minority Health Conference. Your work was obvious, as the conference was a tremendous success and contribution to the intellectual discussion of health issues of communities of color. I was especially proud of all of the students who performed and conducted events so well. Your professionalism, insights, and general exceptional execution of the conference made me very proud to be a UNC School of Public Health faculty of color.

I hope I can be of better support for next year's conference by actually attending the meetings. But if not, please know you have my on-going moral and spiritual support. Once again, congratulations for a job well done.

I personally would like to say CONGRATULATIONS to the Minority Health Conference planning committee for an excellent conference. The speakers were dynamic, inspirational, and 'on target' with their strategies for intervention. AND, the messages were consistent.

Again, congratulations on a job well done, and thank you for the invitation to student researchers. The latter was a wonderful addition -- one that should be repeated in future conferences.

NATIONAL BLACK WOMEN'S HEALTH PROJECT

Office of the Founder

Biography

Byllye Y. Avery, Founder of the National Black Women's Health Project since its inception in 1981, has been a women's health care activist for 20 years.

Prior to her entry into the health care arena, Ms Avery taught special education to emotionally disturbed students and consulted on learning disabilities in public schools and universities throughout the southeastern United States.

Ms Avery co-founded the Gainesville Women's Health Center and co-founded BIRTHPLACE, an alternative birthing center in Gainesville, Florida.

She moved to Atlanta in 1981 to begin the National Black Women's Health Project (NBWHP), a non-profit organization committed to defining, promoting, and maintaining the physical, mental, and emotional well-being of African-American women.

A dreamer, "visionary", and grassroots realist, Byllye Avery has combined activism and social responsibility in developing a national forum for the exploration of health issues of African-American women, the gathering and documenting of the African-American women's health experiences in America, and the provision of a supportive atmosphere for African-American women.

In 1989, Byllye Avery received the MacArthur Foundation Fellowship for Social Contribution and the Essence Award for community service.

In 1994, she received the Academy of Science Institute of Medicine's Gustav O. Lienhard Award for the Advancement of Health Care.

In 1995 she received the Dorothy I. Height Lifetime Achievement Award, and The Presidential Citation from the American Public Health Association.

Byllye currently serves on the Advisory Committee for the Office of Research on Women's Health of the National Institutes of Health and the Dana Farber Cancer Center.

She served two years as a visiting fellow at the Harvard School of Public Health and is a board member of the following organizations:

Global Fund for Women
International Women's Health Coalition
Board of Visitors for Tucker Foundation
Dartmouth College

She has received honorary degrees from Thomas Jefferson University, State University of New York at Binghamton, Gettysburg College, Bowdoin College and Bates College.

Logistical Information for Byllye Avery

Thank you so much for inviting Ms. Avery to speak to your audience. Over the upcoming weeks we will be working closely together to make her visit successful. The following information will make both your work and our easier and more efficient.

Logistics: Please complete the enclosed form notifying us of the particulars for Ms. Avery's visit.

The Presentation: Ms. Avery likes to stand as close to the audience as possible and use a hand held microphone. She does not like to speak from stages or use a podium. If she is a speaker for lunch or dinner program, she prefers to eat at the end of her presentation. Head waitpersons are usually very cooperative if they know in advance. She prefers a low-fat reduced calorie meal.

Press: Interviews can be done at home by telephone and in person as her schedule permits. Please keep this in mind as you make plans.

Travel arrangements: We are requesting that you send Ms. Avery an airline ticket in advance. We will notify you of her desired travel arrangements including airline flight numbers, seating and meal selections (if applicable) and frequent flyer numbers. If your travel agent uses Federal Express for delivery please send to: 925 Strath Haven Avenue, Swarthmore, Pa 19081. Please send all other correspondence to PO Box 535, Swarthmore, 19081.
